NOTES FROM THE TEACHERS

Welcome to 1st Grade's First Learning Board

The learning board will contain an overview of the assignments we'd like students to complete over the course of the week. Each week all teachers will post learning boards by Monday at 8am. You and your students will have until Sunday at 11pm to complete the assignments for the week.

We suggest that students spend at least 60 minutes learning a day, however we recognize each student and family has individual needs. Complete activities at your own pace that best fits your schedule. It is important to turn in the assignments because they will be used to indicate attendance for the week.

This will always be posted on Glacier Peak's 1st grade website and your teacher's Seesaw page. Seesaw will be the main platform we will be using to share class news as well as post and turn in assignments every week.

Second Step: Social Emotional Learning

Hi Parents,

My name is Cory Brown and I am the Social Emotional Learning Specialist. I have added Social and Emotional Learning lessons to the learning board that your student(s) can do every week. These are lessons that they would have been doing in class and there is a lesson plan for parents to use to continue the learning from that lesson. There also also other materials and activities for your student(s) to do in the linked Padlet. These lessons and padlets will change every week. If you have any questions or are in need of additional activities for your student, please email me at cory.brown@adams12.org. Thank you.
